

Bhavana Akula

Bhavana Akula is a social impact entrepreneur, Benjamin Franklin Scholar & PSG Public Service Fellow at the University of Pennsylvania. As a lifelong advocate for youth civic engagement, violence prevention, and cultural appreciation, she has previously served as Director of Mid-Atlantic Activism for the Junior State of America, NJ Voter Outreach Coordinator for March For Our Lives, and developed the RepresentAsian advocacy network of 300+ volunteers. She has a knack for bringing people and technology together to inspire positive change.