

Charlotte A. Garner

Charlotte A. Garner is a product of potential and personal determination. Her dedication to use her lived experience makes her a driving force and staunch advocate for those who suffer from the plight of homelessness. She credits the assistance she receives from Healthcare for the Homeless-Houston as the mainstay of her efforts toward self-actualization. She's an accomplished spoken word artist who performs on stages nationally. She is an aspiring author and plans to release several books in the near future. Service work is at the core of her very being with the mantra, "Thanks for the opportunity to serve" as a ready response to requests. (The piece she is performing today was originally written at the request of her mother in 1999 and amended to reflect the sentiment this occasion. Presenting an original work, written and performed by Charlotte A. Garner, pen name The W.O.W Factor, Woman off Words, "REMEMBER THE LOVE.")
