

Brett J. Feldman, MSPAS, PA-C
Director, Division of Street Medicine
Street Medicine Institute Board of Directors
Clinical Assistant Professor of Family Medicine

Brett J. Feldman, MSPAS, PA-C, is the Director and co-founder of USC Street Medicine and is an Associate Professor of Family Medicine. Mr. Feldman is the outgoing Vice Chair of the Street Medicine Institute and has practiced street medicine since 2007.

In Mr. Feldman's role with USC and the Street Medicine Institute, he participated in the establishment or expansion of over 150 street medicine programs internationally. He has led advocacy efforts to integrate street medicine into mainstream healthcare while keeping its values and philosophy intact.

Mr. Feldman's work has been featured on the BBC, Channel News Asia, Washington Post, LA Times, CNN, the Associated Press, and other outlets across Europe, Asia and the Middle East. A PBS documentary featuring Brett and the street medicine program which he founded, Close to Home: Street Medicine, won an Emmy award in 2018.